

SCiP Alliance London Hub

Mission statement

The SCiP Alliance aims to champion the educational progression of children from military families by developing a robust evidence base, connecting and supporting practitioners to share best practice, and influencing policy so military-connected children can make informed and confident transitions through further and higher education into thriving adult lives and careers.

The SCiP London Hub, established by The Royal British Legion and King's College London, aims to facilitate communication and collaboration between stakeholders working on the educational outcomes of Service children within the Greater London area to support the overarching aims of the SCiP Alliance and its members.

Role of SCiP London Hub members

The role of the SCiP London Hub members is to advise on the development of the Hub and its activities.

Members of the SCiP London Hub agree to:

- Attend meetings regularly
- Actively contribute to, and collaborate on, the actions of the London Hub
- Provide support for activities and outputs where possible
- Contribute to the development of networks outside the London Hub members
- Ensure that the Hub is an open and supportive environment for all members

The SCiP London Hub will meet twice a year, with meetings convened by The Royal British Legion and King's College London.

Membership is open to representatives from:

- Universities and higher educational establishments
- Primary and secondary schools
- Relevant charities
- Military welfare
- Policy makers

Role of SCiP London Hub Leaders

The role of the SCiP London Hub leaders, The Royal British Legion and King's College London, is to facilitate the development of the Hub and its activities. The Hub Leaders agree to:

- Arrange and facilitate Hub meetings
- Provide feedback between the Hub and the SCiP Alliance
- Communicate with Hub members in a timely manner
- Ensure that the Hub is an open and supportive environment for all members
